NASK operates at the nexus of ICT market and the world of academia. We believe that this unique position largely determines the role we are to play. Our mission is to enforce and to efficiently exploit interactions between science and industry, for the benefit of information and communication technologies and their applications. We perform our research within the framework of our statutory activity, as well as under national and international scientific and R&D projects or bilateral agreements concluded with commercial entities.

We have experienced and highly qualified R&D staff and access to the state-of-the-art telecommunication technologies. We take on challenges of developing knowledge and information civilization and try to create a convenient forum for exchanging academic and business thought. We actively participate in the work on standardization of ICT security and on development of biometric technologies.
