NASK as a pioneer of modern telecommunications services in Poland has its own high-performance, secure and redundant telecommunications network. It is connected to both the world's largest and Polish commercial networks as well as direct connection to academic networks (Pionier and Geant). The network has been designed so as to fulfil the needs concerning data flow capacity and functionality. Particular importance of the ICT security in NASK's interest resulted in developing complete solution based on own and leased network.
