NASK - Sense of telecommunications

- Home

As one of the oldest operators on the market, NASK has a broad experience in designing a comprehensive and made-to-measure solutions to Customer's telecommunication needs. Proposed solutions are always vastly consulted, in order to choose an optimised path of implementation, both functionally and economically. We combine standard products with technical solutions dedicated to particular Customers into one coherent unity.

We specialise in comprehensive implementation of technology and provide services such as:

- Corporate networks along with hosting and communications services
- Integration of telecommunication solutions, both within their design and modernisation of existing infrastructure
- Comprehensive implementation of corporate mail systems
- Design of dedicated hosting and co-location solutions
- Design of safe network infrastructure on the basis of Customer's individual requirements
- Construction of solutions based on computing cloud architecture (public, private, and hybrid)
